Conclusion

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1, 4, 9, 10, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dielacher et al. (of record) for reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dielacher et al. for reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 12/23/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues that the Dielacher reference does not imply that two the current is divided into two equal currents as required by claim 1.

This argument is not persuasive because the reference explicitly teaches a center-tap, which develops equal voltage on each side of the tap. Moreover, the load is shown as being symmetrical to each of the lines 1 and 2. Because current is equal to voltage divided by impedance, the current flowing through lines 1 and 2 must inherently be the same.

With respect to claim 8, the applicant argues that there is no disclosure for a two-layer plate.

This argument is not persuasive because printed circuit transformers are well known which would include multilayered plates such as the Grandmont et al. reference, cited in paper no. 13.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
